

Thompson raided a poker room | nation

Local or business notices, 10 cents per line; advertising notices, 15 cents per line. Calls on candidates and political matter. Job work is done at low rates, but cash is paid on delivery of goods. Advertising contracts made on liberal terms. Objections and resolutions of respect extra per line.

Country Magazines, $2.50
Advertiser Office, $2.00

THURSDAY, FEB. 18, 1907

Ferdinand Boss, an aged German citizen of Louisville, is dead as the result of one of the most fendish acts on the part of his wife we have ever known of.

Boss and his wife had had frequent quarrels and on going to his home the other day after being released from custody of officers as a result of a warrant sworn out by the wife, the unfortunate man was met at the door by his wife who dashed a can of gasoline over the old man and deliberately struck a match to his saturated clothing.

After suffering untold agony for several days the old fellow died of his injuries. Mrs. Boss claims self defense and if she has money enough and hires the right kind of lawyers will probably be able to prove it.

The Thaw trial is still occupying the center of the stage in the news world at New York.

The details of the testimony at times have been so disgusting that President Roosevelt has become interested in having the newspapers prohibited from printing them. The matter has been taken up by the postal authorities on the grounds that the matter is too obscene to be permitted to pass through the mails. The general opinion is that the young millionaire will escape punishment on the insanity plea. One of the hired experts has already testified that Thaw is afflicted with "Exaggerated ego" and that should certainly excuse a man for committing almost any crime.

Our hogger neighbors are proposing some rather drastic legislation. A bill making the operating of blind tigers a felony is about to pass and the suffering bill drawn by Mrs. Helen Gouger, giving women the right to vote at all elections and to hold municipal offices, was reported from the Committee on Rights and Privileges, with a recommendation that it pass, and the report was adopted by the House.

As we have been absent for some time we will present some of the most important items. We have been having so much bad weather would be pleased to see something better.

Mr. Ed Colvin and family who formerly resided near Leather store.

Measles is the order of the order of the day. Most every one has had a chance for it who has not had it. There are few new cases at this writing and the rest scared at the thought of taking it.

Mrs. James Hahn and little niece, Rebecca, visited the home of Mr. Nelson Dennis and family whose wife is very ill at this writing of rheumatism.

Mr. David Goodlett and Miss Katie Phillips were united in holy bonds of matrimony on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Dennis officiated.

Mrs. James Yates purchased a sow from A. J. Moore for $18. Rev. Charles and W. R. Royally visited Mrs. Lela Gil is of Fenwick.

Messrs. Bernice Graham and Frank Brown of Sharplesville, attended the Phillips and Goodlett wedding Sunday.

WANTED—Gentleman or lady to travel for Mercantile House of large capital. Territory a home or abroad to suit. If desirable the home may be used as headquarters. Weekly salary of $1,000 per year and expenses. Address, Jos. A. Alexander, Springfield, Ky. 51-71

Miss Burnice Fenwick is the pleasant guest of her uncle, Mr. G. W. Fenwick, this week.

Mr. Robert Milton purchased a horse and buggy from Mr. Stanley Fenwick for $150.

Mr. John Teton sold a lot of hogs to Mr. Watt O'Bryan, and Mr. Ben Haydon sold same party a lot of hogs at the market price.

Miss Lillie M. Ocanougher has returned home from Bloomington, Ind., after several weeks visit to relatives.

Mr. Stanley Fenwick left his home for Louisville Sunday morning where he expects to make his future home. Stanley has many friends here who wish him good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bottom and little son, Marshall, also Miss Battie Logsdon spent Sunday with A. Canary and family.

Mr. Henry Stump and wife spent Sunday with Thomas Ash family.

Mr. D. B. Wilson and wife are called to the bedside of her father, Mr. A. L. Perkins, who is very low with pneumonia.

Mr. M. B. Hardin has been confined to his room for several days.

Mr. Albert Mudd made his usual trip in our neighborhood Sunday.

Mrs. H. S. Lutey has been on the sick list for several days. Rumor says there is to be a wedding in our neighborhood soon.

Mr. R. C. Canary and Miss Mollie Taylor visited Mr. Will Nally Sunday.

Mr. Will Nally, President of the county union, organized a lodge of the A. S. of E. at Texas.

Mr. John Shewmaker bought a sow from Mr. Taylor Masters for $18.

Miss Nellie Haydon has returned home after a pleasant visit to Springfield to her brother, Mr. Leo Haydon.

"Forgetment"

A liquid cold relief with a laxative principle which drives out the cold through a copious action of the bowels, and a healing principle which cures the cold and stops the cough—that is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Safe and sure in its action; pleasant to take; and conform to National Pure Food and Drug Law. Contains no opiates. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

POLIN:

Miss Mollie Bloners visited Miss Bessie Hardin the last of the week.

Mr. Jas. Kays has moved to the house vacated by Mr. Sam Hardin and Mr. Eli Cutler to the house vacated by John Q. Hardin.

Mr. Luther Barlow gave a photograph entertainment at Mr. William Chesers last Saturday night in honor of his friend, Miss Bessie Hardin, of Jefferson county.

Miss Movda, of Jefferson county, has been visiting her grandparents for the last two weeks.

Mr. Ed Cheser and Mr. Willie Beoners went to Springfield last Saturday night to see their best girls.

Mr. Harlin Burkhead visited his uncle Mr. Henry Burkhead last Saturday.

Mr. Fred Hall and family, of near Bardstown, have been visiting relatives of this place for the past week.

H. T. Hardin has pooled his tobacco for 7 cents, J. N. Hardin for 9 cents, Corda Cheser for 18 cents.

Old Aunt Smilla Hardin is very ill at this writing.

Mr. George Benedict, of Mooreville, has decided to leave that place and has a sale next Saturday.

Mr. Henson Scott and wife have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. John Crow.

Valley Hill.

C. P. and Hunter Gostley spent Wednesday at Elm Hill, guests of your correspondent, who was very ill at that time.

Mr. W. F. Moran and wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Seay and Miss Margaret and Ingene Gostley dined with Mr. J. B. Gostley, Thursday.

FOR RENT—A good dwelling and a blacksmith shop and tools at Simms, Ky. Brown Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Camden were in Louisville last week.

Mr. Glave Goddard, of Harrodsburg, was in our town one day last week.

Mr. Will Arnold who has been quite ill for the past week is reported to be better at this writing.

Mrs. W. T. Barnett who has been visiting her father for several days returned home accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Earnest Curren.

Mr. Bud Gillespie, of Harrodsburg, was in our town last week.

Mr. R. B. Hatcher, of Springfield, was here last week.

Mr. Uriah Shewmaker is no better at this writing.

Messrs. Lillian Haydon and Ada Warren were the pleasant guests of the Misses Yankee last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Florence Wilson, of Williamsburg, was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Will Arnold Sunday.

Little Mary Hall is on the sick list.

Mr. Joe H. mon sold his farm to Mr. Joe Skaeney for $8000

THREE FOR ONE

For a short time only we will make the following offer to all cash in advance subscribers.

For Two Dollars
We will send
The NEWS-LEADER,
The DAILY LOUISVILLE HERALD,
OUR COUNTRY, the fine new Magazine.

This is good for a limited time only so get your order in early. Address

E. L. Davison, Jr., Pub,
SPRINGFIELD, KY.

MOORESVILLE

Born, on Feb. 8, to the wife of Ham File a 10-lb boy. On Feb. 8th to the wife of Will Colter, a 5-lb daughter.

Mrs. Ruth Green departed this life Sunday, February 10th in the 74th year of her age. She was a devout member of the Catholic church and was interred at St. Rose. She was the mother of 17 children twelve of whom are living.

Messrs. Geo. M. and Jess Pike bought a small tract of land from Ed G. Gushy for $600 cash. Possession has been given.

Mr. Thos. Cull sold two hogs to Richard Shumate for $20.

Owen Ellis and R. M. Cull were over near Woodlaw last Saturday night to see their best girls.

Mr. Lum Cheatham and wife visited her brother, Mr. P. J. Cheatham, Sunday.

Mr. James Cull and wife visited their daughter, Mrs. Lum Cheatham Monday.

Miss Mollie Hines is still the guest of Mrs. P. D. Moore.

Mr. Wm. Nally, county organizer and acts as a general stimulant to the large audience last Friday night. Several joined the lodge and about 40 acres of tobacco was pooled.

Mr. Wm. Edelman and family of Mt. Zion spent last Sunday with his brother, A. W. Eddie man, of Booker.

Mr. Chas. Ruby and family have removed from Indiana to Mackville this country.

Mr. Clyde Goddard and Jas. Moran, Jr., passed through here last Saturday en route to Chaplin.

W. O. Ellis offers Concord grapes at $1 per hundred and strawberries at $1 per 1000.

For Billions and Sick Headache Take Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup. It sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and acts as a general stimulant to the liver and bowels without irritating these organs. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures biliousness and habitual constipation. Does not nauseate or grip and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name Orino and refuse to accept any substitute. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Mackville

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Camden were in Louisville last week.

Mr. Glave Goddard, of Harrodsburg, was in our town one day last week.

Mr. Will Arnold who has been quite ill for the past week is reported to be better at this writing.

Mrs. W. T. Barnett who has been visiting her father for several days returned home accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Earnest Curren.

Mr. Bud Gillespie, of Harrodsburg, was in our town last week.

Mr. R. B. Hatcher, of Springfield, was here last week.

Mr. Uriah Shewmaker is no better at this writing.

Messrs. Lillian Haydon and Ada Warren were the pleasant guests of the Misses Yankee last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Florence Wilson, of Williamsburg, was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Will Arnold Sunday.

Little Mary Hall is on the sick list.

Mr. Joe H. mon sold his farm to Mr. Joe Skaeney for $8000 and will move to our town next week.

Mrs. Rose Camden is on the sick list.

Rev. Shirley, of Harrodsburg, was in our town on business last week.

Mr. W. B. Hatcher was in Danville Monday.

Dr. W. R. Thompson was in Harrodsburg last Wednesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Graves, who have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graves.

Mrs. I. N. Arnold, of Maud, was the guest of her mother Mrs. William Lear last week.

Mrs. Margie Raybourne was the guest of Mrs. Fannie Thompson Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Graves, of Springfield, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Lear Thursday and Friday.

Miss Della Lawson, of Springfield, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Little Sue is Shewmaker who has been very low with pneumonia for all the week and the summer rains over flow these nearly valley lands more frequently than ever. These valley lands are doubly, very truly wasteful. Such is the price the south is paying and has paid since the sixties for the cotton monopoly of the world. Had our people been denser, the result would be that much more aggravated.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

A BAY.

should be the sunshine in the house, and will be if you give it White's "Eucalypti" the best worm medicine offered to suffering humanity. This remedy is becoming the permanent fixture of all households. A mother with children can get rid of a beetle and other vermin. Cream Verming is the house. Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.

Hardsey Schoolhouse

Mr. J. R. Washburn and wife were called to Taylorville by the serious illness of Mrs. John Washburn of that place.

Mr. So. Kays, wife and little son, Charlie, of Hillsboro, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here.

Messrs. Ed Grace and P. H. Babb were in Springfield Saturday evening.

Mr. Lem Cheser bought Mr. Peyton Bruggs' farm at Polin. Price $1,000.

Mr. Sabe Hardin who moved his saw mill on Mr. J. M. Sabe's farm some time ago has his mill in operation now and has sawed the lumber that completed the bridge floor. Mr. Hardin was the first man to drive over the bridge in a buggy after the floor was completed. We hope the approaches will soon be complete and then the bridge will be open for the public travel.

We think Uno is hard of apprehension as we did not say a word about it. Uno is a young lady would discontinue the travel of a roadway for it was our opinion that a certain thing had attracted him in the direction for we certainly did not know of anything else that would cause a young man to run such a risk of his life as he did when drove into the mud hole at Hays' scales. But has been made right and Uno can travel that road without fearing any danger.

ON LOOKER.

Rising From the Grave. A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Fetterell, of Lucas, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than three bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetes stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complication which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed at Haysdon & Robertson Druggists. Price only 75c.

From Hands and Nails. The farm hands, a dozen brown colored men, had washed at the pump and now sat patiently and quietly at the table. Soon the dinner appeared. There was some kind of boiled pork—a long, low oblong of pure white fat, with just one thread of lean running through it, and there was none, delicious pure made by the southern cook, and there were potatoes, coffee and black molasses.

The men put the black molasses on their feet. The farmer said: "I see you are eating the black like molasses. I like it myself. The long, hard work in the sunny fields gives you an appetite that nothing satisfies as molasses will."

"I used to have an overseer who could not have eaten his dinner without some of this without a knife. He took on his plate molasses, coffee, beans, and so on, and he would chop up these things together, adding a bit of bread besides, and lastly he would take the molasses jug and pour on about half a pint. That seems like a heavy and sickening dish for the hot sun of an August day, doesn't it? I tell you, though, it tastes good; it has been so useful in a blazing field since sunrise. I've tried it, and I know."

Fish and Oysters in season, I respectfully ask a share of the public patronage.

I WILL Sell Strictly for Cash.

L. T. BROWN.

Shop near the Post Office.

SOIL WASTE.

Seeing Washes on Hillsides and Slopes and a result in the Valley.

We have all seen new lands gradually lose their dark color and change principally to more of sand or gravel every day. Sometimes it is more or white rock that stares at us on the hillsides in pale astonishment at our ignorance and indifference to the land's distress.

But when the vegetable matter has been washed away by ten or twenty or fifty years of incessant rain aided by a system of clean cultivation (for cotton), have seen washing their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graves.

The soil washing is not new. They run their careworn branches like skeletons fingers along the hillsides and eat into the subsoil as well as carry away remnants of the surface soil.

Dame Nature strives in vain to stop the work of ruin by sending out her forestry reserves and grass, and pine, and even sweet gum, all over these threatened districts. But the farmer is blind to the mother's good intent and sends many fruitless hours "sweeping asparagus." Not only is the soil lost, but the subsoil is carried down upon the nearby valleys and covers up, buries the rich alluvial soil once found for all the creek and ditch valleys of the south. More than this, it fills the stream with mud bars and drifts and the creek and ditch valleys of the south. More than this, it fills the stream with mud bars and drifts and the creek and ditch valleys of the south.

These nearly valley lands more frequently than ever. These valley lands are doubly, very truly wasteful. Such is the price the south is paying and has paid since the sixties for the cotton monopoly of the world. Had our people been denser, the result would be that much more aggravated.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther east. The valleys will no longer grow good crops of Johnson grass. The grasses on these thousands of acres, but it does not respond to the plow as it once did. It does not dispute with asparagus and old edge the possession of the clay hills.

Remedy and Remedy. We have recently visited some of the old cotton growing sections of the south-lands in cultivation for sixty and ninety years. It would be but for the fact that general opinion has been made to replace anything that has been taken from these lands for generations past. They have been simply washed and cropped to death. We note the same destructive systems at work in nearly every cotton county in the south and southwest. Look at these older cotton lands farther and passengers on the train from iron, and they all alighted in Arling-and cheered for Miss Breckinridge.